

Resources on Survey Measures

Mental Health: Children and Adolescents

NCHS Survey Measures Catalog: Child and Adolescent Mental Health. Over the last year, CAHMI worked with the National Center for Health Statistics (NCHS) to design and implement an online, searchable catalog of child and adolescent mental health measures. The website, which went 'live' this Fall, provides researchers and policy analysts with an overview of the measures of child and adolescent mental health and use of mental health services available from the various surveys in the NCHS data systems. Users search for measures by selecting specific topics. Search results provide detailed descriptive information on specific survey questions and scales pertaining to the selected topic, as well as links to relevant documentation and downloadable datafiles. Go to; www.cdc.gov/nchs/measurescatalog/camh.htm to visit the online catalog. For more information, please contact Debra Read at readd@ohsu.edu.

Please send your comments on these readings or suggested additions to:
lckitson@gse.upenn.edu

IES Predoctoral Training Program in Interdisciplinary Methods for Education Research